

FORD ENDOWS FARM OF JOHN BORROUGHS

Memorial Service To-morrow, First Anniversary of Burial of Naturalist.

PLAQUE TO MARK GRAVE

Many Floral Tributes Pass Through Kingston to Roxbury in Catskills.

KINGSTON, N. Y., April 1.—The farm on the mountainside near Roxbury where John Burroughs was born, where he lived many of his years and where last April his body was laid to rest has been purchased by Henry Ford, long a friend and vacation comrade of the naturalist and author.

On Monday, the first anniversary of the burial of Burroughs, the farm will be dedicated to his memory.

Mr. Ford, it was learned to-day, bought the place on March 10 from Julian Burroughs, the naturalist's son, to whom it was bequeathed, and established a fund for its preservation as a memorial.

The John Burroughs Memorial Association had been formed to buy the place and preserve it, but when that organization met difficulties in raising funds, Ford volunteered to see the plan through. It was said by Judge A. T. Clearwater, in whose office the purchase was consummated.

Judge Clearwater said Ford paid $15,000 for the farm. His added gift will be used to preserve the spots that Burroughs made known to the world through his books—the time-darkened house in which he was born; Woodchuck Lodge, the retreat in which he wrote of nature and its wonders, and in whose quiet shelter he was host to intimates; the rock on which he played as a boy and that now marks his resting place; the spring that inspired many pages of his works.

Ford and Thomas A. Edison and Harvey S. Firestone, who used to go on vacations with Burroughs, are expected to attend the memorial service on Monday, along with a host of others who loved and admired the naturalist.

Flowers and sundry tokens began passing through Kingston to-day from many parts of the country, to be taken through the Catskills to Roxbury for the dedication. A bronze plaque will be imbedded Monday in the great brown rock over the grave of Burroughs. For the rest, the farm will be preserved as nature has it, and as Burroughs knew it.

TWO STATES IN FIGHT OVER MUSCLE SHOALS

Alabama and Tennessee Senators Clash on Project.

Special Dispatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD.
New York Herald Bureau.
Washington, D. C., April 1.

A fight has developed between members of Congress from Alabama and Tennessee over the Muscle Shoals project. The Alabamians contend that the entire power developed there should be used at that point to develop a great manufacturing city, and they are not interested in the scheme of developing a public service corporation of vast magnitude to serve power developed at Muscle Shoals to industrial plants in adjoining States.

In a letter sent to-day by Senator Shields (Tenn.) to J. F. Porter, president of the Tennessee Farm Bureau, he makes it clear he will fight for the wider distribution of the power and against its monopoly by the people of Alabama.

Opposed to his program is the group of Senators led by Senator Underwood (Ala.), who plan to keep the power in that State and build up a great industrial center at Muscle Shoals.

In the First Spring Days

one involuntarily begins to take earnest thought for other days beyond—days in which new, joyous clothes will be needed, to strike a note of cheer in harmony with Nature's newly-awakened and newly-garbed world

So here are lovely Easter newnesses galore—new frocks, suits, hats, wraps, blouses and other etceteras for women, misses and the younger folk; new essentials of dress for men and boys; new things for re-decorating the home; and many novelties of the "luxury" type, which may not be entirely necessary, but are eminently desirable.

Individual Hats

for Spring and early Summer dominate the new display in the Millinery Salon on the Third Floor.

Among the charmingly youthful models assembled here are many chic hats for afternoon—just the type of hat that madame will wear when she drops in for tea at a smart hotel.
Some of these feature the transparent effects upon which Fashion smiles so genially; but Milan straws are also much in evidence. For the street there are stunning combinations of silk and straw, and some very interesting confections in which velvet is introduced.

And of Sports Hats there is an infinite variety—every hat new and different.

The prices are reasonable
